Identifying opportunities

We promote the latest funding opportunities and funding-related training available to the voluntary sector, primarily through our website and our weekly e-bulletin.

We have access to a searchable database of a wide selection of grants and funding schemes. If you have a specific need around a theme, we can run that search for you and send you the results.

Bid writing

We can offer an external pair of eyes for your applications and provide tips on giving your application the best chance of success in a competitive market.

Data

Our site has lots of helpful information about the people who work and reside within Bromley so that you can source evidence of local need for your service.

Workshops

We run workshops around particular funding opportunities.

Partnership working

We work with other organisations to secure funding to deliver programmes within the local community.

Building Capacity

Our capacity development service is aimed at individuals and organisations in Bromley that operate, or seek to operate, in the voluntary, community and social enterprise sector, including registered and un-registered charities.

Resources

We have an extensive resources page which is designed to provide support for those wanting to set up, manage and deliver projects, campaigns and services. This includes developing the policies you need to become a credible and trusted body, such as safeguarding, risk and data protection and the recruitment and role of trustees.

Training

We hold training events around topics that you tell us are important to you.

Our weekly ebulletin highlights new resources, other useful information and training opportunities.
