

Girlguiding

Girlguiding is a leading charity for girls and young woman in the UK. Across Bromley Borough just under 100 volunteers provide a weekly unit meeting for nearly 2000 children.

Through fun, friendship and adventure Girlguiding empowers girls to be their best and face the challenges of growing up today in a safe girl-only space.

Young members in the organisation are aged between 5 and 18 and split into four sections:

- Rainbows
- Brownies
- Guides
- Rangers.

Each section works on a programme of activities that changes and becomes more challenging as the girls get older. Themes from all aspects of life are covered, such as science and engineering, craft, community action, art, food, emotional wellbeing and international awareness. Young members of Girlguiding earn badges and awards as they complete different programme stages. They also like to go out on day trips, Brownie holidays and Guide camps (in tents!) when restrictions allow. It's not just a great experience for the girls, the adult volunteer leadership teams get to take part in the fun too and enjoy some great experiences.

The local team would love to hear from anyone that might be interested in helping run their units, you'll have the opportunity to meet new people, learn new skills, do something interesting every week and make a difference in the lives of girls and young women in the community. Girlguiding is inclusive and welcome people from all faiths and backgrounds to join them. If you'd like to know more about the opportunities, they have available, please get in touch:
